

TEN REASONS FOR CHOOSING A

nmcQC Training Course

1. The nmc QC is your guarantee of quality

As the professional body for people management and development we really do understand the value of training and how to design and deliver courses that provide practical and immediate results for participants and organisations alike.

2. Setting the standard

We set ourselves the highest standards and our courses set the benchmark for the latest thinking, best practice and quality of delivery. Our customers see us a brand they can trust.

3. Totally current

We are constantly updating and improving our courses through research and development and focusing on what customers tell us is important. Continuing innovation means introducing new courses that reflect the most up-to-date issues facing the profession.

4. Something for everyone

We have a wide, diverse and innovative range of training available with over 25 course titles. We've got courses for people at all levels at every stage of their career. Plus we train line managers in all areas of management and business skills.

5. The best people are our people

We select our faculty not only for their ability to facilitate top-quality training but also for their proven expertise in the subjects in which they train. With in-depth knowledge, practical experience and excellence presentation skills to enhance your learning experience we are second to none.

6. Relevant to your work

For training to work it has to be relevant to the workplace. That's why our courses focus on providing you with insights and skills that you can apply back in the workplace straight away. Our courses place particular emphasis on interaction, discussion and high levels of participation. And course participants are limited to ensure that all participants get the most out of their course.

7. Excellent support materials

We are committed to providing the highest-quality training that is competitively priced and excellent value for money. Course fees include comprehensive notes and materials, and on some courses participants also receive a book relevant to the subject at a very minimal price..

8. Wealth of experience

Our independent board of course directors bring a wealth of experience, providing advice and insights to ensure we keep up to date with the changing needs of clients

9. Training at your workplace with In-Company solutions

As well as the courses on in-company training can meet your organisation's needs - from a single course to working with you to plan and deliver a whole in-house training strategy. On firm order, we in fact visit the client's place beforehand to prepare slides which depict your climate.

10. We'll help you to make the right choice...

Although we try to make the course descriptions as informative as possible, we know that it can sometimes be difficult for you to judge your exact needs from reading course summaries. It often helps, through a one to one talk, over your queries and concerns. We can give you objective advice on the most appropriate course to suit your requirements.
